GAMES TODAY.

Chicago at Washington. Cincinnati at Baltimore. Cleveland at Boston. St. Louis at Brooklyn. Pittsburg at Philadelphia.

Willie Lange, the elongated center fielder of the Chicago Basebull Club, won yesterday's game at National Park. With Reilly on second base, by his double, Wrigley landed squarely on the ball and drove it on a line to right center. It was going at a terrific rate. Lange made a wild, des perate dash for the ball. It was close to the ground, and Willie stuck out both bands. fell and rolled over it, but held the leather Had it passed him the game would have been won by the Senators then and there There were three men on bases in the ninth linning when the aforesaid Williswent to bat, and after he had made s swish with the stick the ball went at De-Montreville so hard that the youth'al Sen ator could not handle it, and the tying run ning was enough to dampen the spirits of most any team, but the Senators were full of grit and went right after the Coits. Everitt hit a high fly to left center, which Tom Brown badly misjudged, and the hump-backed baseman was on third be fore the ball was returned.

This was followed by a base on balls and then Lange hit to right. The ball made an ugly bound and Abbey failed to stop it. Lange reached third and scored on a put-out immediately after.

This had little effect upon McJames. He settled down and pitched in excellent fashion, until the ninth, when he was touched up for three singles. He struck seven of the Colts out, and, although he gave five men bases on balls, the Sena tors would have won had he been give decent support.

Reilly fumbled an easy grounder, and then made a wild throw. He also muffed a fly. Cartwright seemed to be drows in the field, but was strong at the bat Wrigley made one wretched throw, but he atoned for this by a beautiful throw to the plate, catching McCormack, wh tried to score from second on a base-hi to left. Farrett's catching was quite up-to-date

He was deprived of an assist because of DeMontreville's slowness in touching Don hue, as Bridget slid into second base. It was an easy out, but Gene seeming! wanted to make a grand stand play, and he failed ingloriously. O'Brien showed a marked improvement in fielding, and he took good care of several victors balls. Once he got one back of second and snapped it over to Cartwright in rapid style putting Donohue out, after the latter had reached first on a single. The handsome catcher leisurely walked off the bag. Johnny then sent the ball quickly to Cartwright and Donohue was out.

Abbey caught Ryan's two files in deep right without an effort, and Tom Brown distinguished himself by catching a liner and throwing Pfeffer out at the plate Wrigley had little to do, but he scored Ryan's head

DeMontreville had his hands full, and with the exception of the failure to hold Lange's drive in the ninth, he played in dashing style, and worked hard to win-

The two old men-Anson and Pfefferwere in fine fettle for aged Colts, and they both showed that there is still some life left. Donohue was strong at the bat, and backstopped up to his standard. Denzer started in to pitch, but as h walked up to the bat in the fourth inning Old Man Anson requested the yearling Leaguer to take his seat, and Wizard Griffith took hold of a stick. There were mer as the king of twirlers was easily retired. The Clacagos were first at the bat. Everett's triple, McCormack's pass, Lange's three-barger, and an out scored three runs. They made another in the second on a base on balls, an out and Everett's plunk to McJames, which the doctor knocked into foul territory in his attempt to get hold From then until the minth the South Carolina twirler had the visitors at his mercy, but in their last turn at the bat singles by Donohue, Lange and Anson and a base on balls resulted in two runs. The Senators also began scoring in the first. Brown hit for a double and came home on Abbey's single. He hit safely in the second and Abbey went to first on balls. Then came a double steal just as DeMontreville bunted, and on the put out Brown scored and Abbey went to third, from which the latter scored on a fly to Lange.

Wrigley drove one over Ryan's head in the sixth for three bases, and scored on O'Brien's out, Pfeffer to Anson.

DeMontreville hit to left for a double in the eighth, and, after Farrell went out on Griffith's assist to Anson, he scored on Reilly's two-bagger. The latter falled and the Error Results in Two to advance as Lauge made his sensational Runs.—The Statesmen Very Weak Cartwright hit for a double in the ninth and it looked as though the ticing run would be scored, but after McGuire batted for McJames, went out on a fly to Pfeffer, he attempted to steal third, no doubt under instructions, and was thrown n all hopes for scoring faded rown went out at lirst, and, for time in succession, the Senators ated by one run. The game was called in the eighth in ning, with two men out, to enable the visitors to catch the train.

The features of the contest were the batting of L. Rosson and Stutsman, the former making two and the latter onthree-base hit. READY FOR THE JURY.

Testimouy in the Timayents Case All In. All the evidence has been heard in the e of Telemaque T. Timayenis, the Greek author, who has been on trial in criminal court No. 1, for the past week for violat-ing the United States Statutes, and it is mite probable that the case will be given to the jury some time today.

When court opened yesterday morning the defense played one of the strongest cards by placing on the stand a new wit ness. He was Dr. Abraham J. Arbelle, a New York physician, and editor of probably the only Arabic newspaper published in this country. He said that he was perfectly familiar with the word "poustis, and gave the jury alongthy and exhaustive history of the word, from its original in-troduction in the Arabic to its adoption and use by the Greeks. He said there was no trace of obscenity in its use in any sense, and adhered to his statement despite the rigid cross-examination of the pros-

Dr. Demosthenes Pavlides, formerly Greek consul at San Francisco, and at present a well-known Greek physician of Boston, was the next witness. In addition to being a graduate of the Greek Hellenic National College at Constanti-nople, he is a laureate of the University of Paris, and is considered one of the hest authorities on Greek in this coun-He was shown the alleged obscene letters, which he translated without any difficulty. He told the jury that he wa unable to find any semblance of obscenty in them, and that he had used the objectionable word "poustis" in official communications to his govern-Demostheres Timayenis, of Boston, and the assistant district attorney called Prof. Thomas, of the State Department to the control of the cont to the stand in order to refute the testi-mony of one of the witnesses for the defense. Prof. Thomas frankly acknowledged his ignorance of many modern of a thousand students ringing in their Greek words, and said that he had no ears. It was the most spirited send-off new light to throw upon his former testigiven the jury as to their treatment of evidence adduced, and was still en

BIG STORAGE WAREHOUSE.

A Building on Mahone Lot That the Government May Lease. An immense one-story building, which is intended as a storage warehouse, is being erected on the southern half of the Mañona lot, at Nortl Capitol and L streets, by W. F. Nash the owner of the property. Al-though Mr. Nash claims that he has made no arrangements for the rental of the building when completed, he admitted that it would probably be leased by the Government as a storage bouse for the Govern-ment Frinting Office, or else for the purpose of storing Government documents, which at present take up valuable space in the Capitol building.

It is also among the possibilities that the Baltimore and Onio Railroad will lease the building as a freight depot, as it is known that road has made several attempts to purchase the ground from Mr. Nash for the purpose of erecting a freight depot

The building is 270 feet long by 115 feet broad, and will have an inside area of more than 30,000 square feet. The walls are of solid brick, fourteen inches in thickness, and are being built on a con-crete base thirty inches in width.

There will be no rooms in the build-ing, the space being open. Mr. Nash expects to have the building completed and ready for occupancy by the first of July.
